RAISING RESPONSIBLE KIDS

A “Game Plan” for Parents and Grandparents

Dr. Darrell Burnett is a clinical psychologist, marriage and family therapist, and sports psychologist specializing in youth sports, author, lecturer, and father of three. He has made radio and TV appearances (NBC, ABC, CBS, ESPN, CNN, Fox Sports Net, NPR, etc.) including an appearance of Robert Schuller’s nationally televised Hour of Power.

Dr. Burnett believes we parents are better off spending our energy developing responsible children, who will then become responsible adults. Join us to learn the keys to moral development in children, how to teach the “3 A’s” of consequences, and how to stay consistent. His animated, humorous, upbeat presentation includes anecdotes, cartoons, video and handouts.
